The Topic

READING COMPREHENSION

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

It is easy to make a delicious-looking hamburger at home. But would this hamburger still look delicious after it sat on your kitchen table under very bright lights for six or seven hours? If someone took a picture or made a video of this hamburger after the seventh hour, would anyone want to eat it? More importantly, do you think you could get millions of people to pay money for this hamburger?

These are the questions that fast-food companies worry about when they produce commercials or print ads for their products. Video and photo shoots often last many hours. The lights that the photographers use can be extremely hot. These conditions can cause the food to look quite unappealing to potential consumers. Because of this, the menu items that you see in fast food commercials are probably not actually edible.

Let's use the hamburger as an example. The first step towards building the perfect commercial hamburger is the bun. The food stylist—a person employed by the company to make sure the products look perfect—sorts through hundreds of buns until he or she finds one with no wrinkles. Next, the stylist carefully rearranges the sesame seeds on the bun using glue and tweezers for maximum visual appeal. The bun is then sprayed with a waterproofing solution so that it will not get soggy from contact with other ingredients, the lights, or the humidity in the room. Next, the food stylist shapes a meat patty into a perfect circle. Only the outside of the meat gets cooked—the inside is left raw so that the meat remains moist. The food stylist then paints the outside of the meat patty with a mixture of oil, molasses, and brown food coloring. Grill marks are either painted on or seared into the meat using hot metal skewers. Finally, the food stylist searches through dozens of tomatoes and heads of lettuce to find the best-looking produce. One leaf of the crispest lettuce and one center slice of the reddest tomato are selected and then sprayed with glycerin to keep them looking fresh.

So, the next time you see a delectable hamburger in a fast-food commercial, remember: you're actually looking at glue, paint, raw meat, and glycerin! Are you still hungry?

A) From a, b, c and d choose the correct answer:

1. Which of the following would be the best title of the passage?
 - a. The food Stylist

4. According to the passage, the food stylist’s job is to.....
- a. make food products look perfect
- b. make the most delicious products
- c. cook tasty hamburgers
- d. cook the inside and outside of the bun
5. According to the passage, which of the following is NOT TRUE?

- b. The sesame seeds are carefully rearranged by the stylist on the bun.
- c. The meat will remain moist only if the inside of the meat is left raw.

Summary-making

Previously, medical science was mostly concerned with noise levels powerful enough to cause hearing damage. But in the 21st century, where everyday noise is a rule rather than an exception, it is thought that the effects leave us in a state of almost constant agitation. Experts have proposed some ways in which we can reduce such effects of noise. Firstly, you should try to start the day with some silence. This means you should get up a little earlier because it could be the most important bit of relaxation you get all day. For a few minutes, sit completely still with a straight back and empty your mind. Apart from hearing, we have senses of touch, smell, taste and sight – so use them! Here's an idea... switch off all of the noise in your house. Turn off the TV and computer, keep your mobile phone away. Take some time to appreciate your environment by breaking up your day with quiet periods, at least once every couple of hours. Try to seek out somewhere quiet to get away from noisy situations and make the most of the chances for peace that you have. Finding your own moments of peace and quiet is becoming an increasingly important part of maintaining all-round health. So take a moment to listen to nothing; your body will thank you for it.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the passage above in answer to the following question:

How can we reduce the effects of disturbing noise around us?

Health and healthy mind (How do you ensure a long life)

الحياة الصحية

"Health is better than wealth", this is a very old proverb. It means that there is nothing better than good health. This essay will discuss ways to have a healthy body and mind to ensure a long life.

Firstly, we need to have healthy bodies that result from eating healthy food. We should avoid unhealthy or junk food. We should also drink more water to stay hydrated. Moreover, we should do sports and exercise to make our bodies fit and strong. Indeed, we can avoid diseases by following this. In addition, we can have supple and well-built bodies that will lead to healthy minds.

Secondly, there are many ways we can make our minds flexible. It is very important to tax our brains. We should read books or do crosswords to train our minds and help to keep us mentally fit. Moreover, we may play chess, solve math problems or puzzles and of course recite the Holy Quran.

In conclusion, it has now become clear that we can't separate a healthy body from having a healthy mind.

The importance of sleep أهمية النوم

Experts advise us that sleep is vital for a person's health and wellbeing. They also warn that sleep loss leads to many health problems. This essay will explain why we need sleep and problems caused by the lack of it.

We need to sleep when we get tired or drowsy after doing much work or efforts. However, the amount of sleep varies from one person to another based on several factors. Some of those are age, daily routine, and the genetic make-up. The great importance of having enough sleep is that we can have a good memory, keep fit and avoid mistakes. That is why having enough sleep is vital to our wellbeing.

But what will happen if we had a lack of sleep? We will suffer from a bad memory or the ability to concentrate. This will result in fatal mistakes at work and in our study or exams. Moreover, we will not be physically fit because we will be very tired. This in turn will lead to a low quality of life.

Finally, sleep is a blessing from Allah. If we use it properly, we can enjoy our life both mentally and physically.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow.

Did you know that some people do not do their reading assignments? It is shocking, but it is true. Some students do not even read short texts that they are assigned in class. There are many reasons for this. They may be distracted or bored. They may be unwilling to focus. They may be unconfident readers. Whatever the reason, it has to stop today. Here is why.

Reading stimulates your mind. It is like a workout for your brain. When people get old, their muscles begin to deteriorate. They get weaker and their strength leaves them. Exercise can prevent this loss. The same thing happens to people's brains when they get older. Brain power and speed decline with age. Reading strengthens your brain and prevents this decline.

You can benefit from reading in the near-term too. Reading provides knowledge. Knowledge is power. Therefore, reading can make you a more powerful person. You can learn to do new things by reading. Do you want to make video games? Do you want to design clothing? Reading can teach you all this and more. But you have to get good at reading, and the only way to get good at something is to practise.

Read everything that you can at school, regardless of whether you find it interesting. Reading expands your vocabulary. Even a "boring" text can teach you new words. Having a larger vocabulary will help you better express yourself. You will be able to speak, write, and think more intelligently. What is boring about that?

Do not just discount a text because it is unfamiliar to you. Each time you read, you are exposed to new ideas and perspectives. Reading can change the way that you understand the world. It can give you a broader perspective on things. It can make you worldlier. You can learn how people live in faraway places. You can learn about cultures different from your own.

Reading is good for your state of mind. It has a calming effect. It can lower your stress level and help you relax. You can escape from your troubles for a moment when you read, and it is a positive escape. So, do yourself a favour: the next time you get a reading assignment, take as much as you can from it. Squeeze it for every drop of knowledge that it contains. Then move on to the next one.

A) From a, b, c and d choose the correct answer.

1. Which of the following would be the best title of this text?

- a. Reading: Good for the Mind in Many Ways
- b. Reading: The Key to a Successful Academic Future
- c. Reading: Improve Your Vocabulary While Being Entertained
- d. Reading: The Best Way to Improve Your Writing Skills

2. The underlined word decline in the 2nd paragraph is opposite in meaning to:
a. improve b. narrate c. utilise d. cycle
3. What does the underlined word it in the last paragraph refer to?
a. calming effect
b. positive escape
c. reading assignment
d. stress level
4. Which of the following is NOT a reason given by the writer why students fail to do their reading assignments?
a. Students may be bored.
b. Students may be distracted.
c. Students may be unwilling to focus.
d. Students may be tired.
5. According to the writer, reading and thinking
a. are related.
b. take little time and effort.
c. increase as the person gets older.
d. have nothing to do with each other.

B) With reference to the passage, answer the following questions.

6. Why does the writer think that reading is good for your state of mind?

7. According to the writer, what should you do to get better at reading?

8. In what way is reading boring texts believed to be useful?

9. According to the writer, how can you fight power and muscle loss as you get older?

Summary Making

Winter is cold in some places. Animals get through this time in many ways. Birds and butterflies fly away. Many of them do not stick around for the winter. They go to a place with nice weather and come home in spring. Migrating is a clever way to avoid the cold. Another effective way to avoid the cold is to sleep through it. Many animals hide during the winter. Their bodies slow down to save energy. They live off their fat. This is hibernation. Snakes, frogs and bears hibernate. Some animals store food in their homes. They live on what they saved in the summer and fall. This is what squirrels do. Other animals tough it out. To survive, animals grow thicker coats in winter. Other animals, such as the arctic fox, change color. Winter may be pretty. It is nice to see snow on the trees, but it is dangerous too.

Have you ever thought about changing your hometown from the city to the village or vice versa? Many people enjoy living in cities while others prefer to live in villages. This essay will discuss both the advantages and disadvantages of life in the city and in the village.

A city has a lot of entertainment places like cinemas, restaurants, and shopping malls. A city has also good public services and good infrastructure. It is easy to get good paid jobs in cities. On the other hand, a city has some disadvantages, as it is crowded. A city is full of pollution from factories and heavy traffic as well which is unhealthy.

Others prefer life in the country for many reasons. They can find many green areas and fresh air in villages. However, the village has its own disadvantages. It is difficult to get a good job in villages. In addition, villages have poor public services and poor infrastructure. You cannot find entertainment places in the village to spend your free time.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Pollution has been defined as the addition of any substance or form of energy to the environment at a harmful rate. In simpler terms, pollution means the poisoning of the environment by man. Pollution has accompanied mankind ever since groups of people settled down in one place for a long time. It was not a serious problem during primitive times when there was ample space available for each individual or group.

As the human population boomed, pollution became a major problem and has remained as such ever since. The rapid advancement of technology has brought along with it many undesirable results, one of which is the pollution of our environment. Humanity today is threatened by the dangers of air, water, land and noise pollution. Man has reached the moon and invented supersonic crafts that can travel faster than the speed of sound. However, these inventions emit pollutants which contribute to the reduction of the ozone layer which absorbs the harmful rays of the sun and prevents them from reaching the Earth; this reduction of the ozone layer has drastic effects on all living things. It will lead to a rise in the number of people suffering from skin cancer and other diseases.

Water pollution has become widespread too. Toxic waste has found its way into our lakes, streams, rivers and oceans. This waste is released by factories. The release of oil by tankers during the recent Gulf War has caused massive damage to marine life. Thousands of sea animals have died or were poisoned by the pollutants in their natural habitat. As such, it is dangerous for humans to consume seafood caught in polluted waters.

We are often faced with noises from construction sites, jet planes and traffic jam. We may be unaware of it but noise pollution causes a loss of hearing, mental disturbances and poor performance at work. To control environmental pollution, many actions should be taken such as setting strict rules and regulations. This calls for united decision-making among world leaders and a public awareness of the dangers of pollution.

3- The underlined word "their" in the paragraph (3) refers to:

Read the following text then do as required:

The frightening outbreak of Coronavirus has become the most important topic that occupies the entire world. The virus that causes COVID-19 is spreading very easily among people. Thus, the more closely a person interacts with others, the higher the risk of COVID-19 spread. The World Health Organization, WHO, has developed measures for protecting workers from exposure to SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19, which depend on the type of work being performed, exposure risk, and the interaction with the infected people. For all people not only workers, it is good to frequently wash hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. When soap and running water are unavailable, an alcohol-based hand rub with at least 60% alcohol can be used. It is a must to avoid touching eyes, nose, or mouth with unwashed hands. It is important to avoid close contact with people who are sick and stay home if one feels sick. The individual responsibility in observing quarantine is still the strongest weapon for limiting the spread of the virus.

Reading comprehension

Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow:

Although not the longest river in America, the Rio Grande is one of the most important. But, unlike other significant rivers, it is not used for shipping. In fact, oceangoing ships cannot navigate its water. No, what makes the Rio Grande so important is its location. Since 1848, it has been the official border of Texas and Mexico.

The Rio Grande is either the fourth or fifth longest river system in North America. It all depends on how it is measured. Because the river twists so much, it occasionally changes course. And these course shifts can cause it to be longer or shorter. At its last official measure, the Rio Grande recorded one thousand eight hundred and ninety six miles. The river starts in Colorado and extends downward to the Gulf of Mexico. Downward is the best way of describing it too. Not only does the river extend south, but it also starts in the mountains and gets lower and lower as it extends to the Gulf. Its name is Spanish for the “Big River,” but the Rio Grande is actually known as Rio Bravo in Mexico. “Bravo” translates as “furious,” so the name makes sense. Because of its twists and turns, it certainly does seem to be angrier than most rivers!

The Rio Grande today is mostly used as a source of drinking water. Sadly, much of the water has been drained from the river. Parts of the river are almost dry! This is because people use more water from the river than the river can get back from rain and other sources. Experts are working to correct this, though, with hopes of restoring the river to its past strength. Today, the river is important as a source of water for people of Texas and Mexico. More important, it is a symbol of cooperation between two nations. Though borders like the Rio Grande separate nations, they are also shared spaces. The Rio Grande is therefore a symbol of friendship and peace between two peoples. Many charities are organized every year in the two countries to raise people awareness about the river.

From a, b, and c choose the correct answer:

1- The best title for this passage is:

- a- The Gulf of Mexico
- b- The Rio Grande
- c- The longest River
- d- Two Nations

2- What does the underlined word “furious,” in the 2nd paragraph mean?

- a- wide
- b- angry
- c- important
- d- official

3- The underlined word “its” in the 3rd paragraph refers to:

- a- water
- b- rain
- c- the river
- d- source

4- How long has Rio Grande been an official border between Texas and Mexico?

- a- since 1648 b- since 1864 c- since 1684 d- since 1846

5- At its last official measure, the Rio Grande recorded:

- a-18.96 miles b- 189.6 miles c- 1896 miles d- 1.896 miles

6 - Where does the river start and extend to?

7- According to the passage, which of the following statements is NOT TRUE?

- a- The river is used for shipping.
b- Ocean-going ships cannot navigate its water.
c- It has been the official border of Texas and Mexico.
d- Water of the river is used for drinking.

8- What can a reader get from such a reading passage?

- a- an opportunity to sail in the river.
b- a comparison between different rivers in North America.
c- inform the reader about The Rio Grande and its importance.
d- some funny stories about Rio Grande.

9- Why are many charities organized every year in Mexico and Texas?

c- to raise people awareness about the river.

Summary making

In four sentences of your own, summarize and paraphrase the following passage in answer to the following question:

How can a person improve his language learning?

An important characteristic of successful language learners is their willingness to make mistakes. Young children learn their first language by trying to communicate a message rather than by trying to learn grammar rules. Children are not worried about correctness, they are concerned with the message. The message is more important than the grammar. In the same way, second language learners must try to communicate even when they are not certain of the correct forms or words. For example, if someone else cannot understand what the learner is trying to say, then the learner must change the way he or she is using the language. Therefore, the more learners use the language, the more skilled they become in the language.

Extreme Sports

Have you ever thought of doing an extreme sport? Extreme sports can be exciting, and when done with precautions, you could have a great time challenging yourself.

Many people who are looking for a little excitement are drawn to the thrill of doing extreme sports. Many people push themselves to extreme limits for many reasons. First, some young people seek fame and eager to be well-known worldwide. Moreover, some of them, tend to practice these sports to feel superior and to overcome their fears. Furthermore, breaking world records and gaining much money could be reasonable reasons for them.

These activities are hazardous and risky. Extreme athletes put their lives in danger by doing such sports. These athletes may be exposed to serious injuries. For example, mountaineers may face bad weather conditions as extreme cold and frostbite. Some of them get lost or may experience extreme exhaustion and sickness.

To sum up, practicing extreme sports is a healthy activity, but only if you remain extremely careful. Also, those activities must be done within reasonable limits, and you shouldn't get too fond of them.

Reading Comprehension (110 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions:

Right now, I am looking at a shelf full of books, relics, old-timers and antiques. Yes, that's right. If you have some spare cash and are looking to enhance your reading experience, then I highly invite you to purchase an e-reader. E-readers are replacing the old books, and I welcome them with open arms.

An e-reader is a device that allows you to read e-books. An e-book is a book which is published in digital form, consisting of text, images, or both. It is produced on, published through, and is readable on computers or other electronic devices. The Oxford Dictionary of English defines the e-book as "an electronic version of a printed book". E-readers are superior to printed books in many aspects. One of these aspects is saving space. The average e-reader can store thousands of digital books, providing a real library at your fingertips. Moreover, being the size and weight of a thin cover, the e-reader itself is relatively petite. It is easy to hold and can fit in a pocketbook or briefcase easily. Perhaps the only drawback to the space- saving aspect of an e-reader is that it requires you to find new things to put on your shelves.

In addition, e-readers are superior to books because they are environmentally friendly. The average novel is about 300 pages long. So, if a novel is printed 1000 times, it will use 300,000 pieces of paper. That's a lot of paper! If there are about 80,000 pieces of paper in a tree, this means it takes almost 4 trees to make these 1000 books. Since e-readers use no trees, they represent a significant amount of preservation in terms of the environment and its resources.

Finally, e-readers are also superior to books because they provide helpful reading tips and tools that printed books do not. An e-reader allows its user to customise letter size, font, and line spacing. It also allows highlighting and electronic bookmarking. Furthermore, it grants users the ability to get an overview of a book and then jump to a specific location based on that overview. While these are all nice features, perhaps the most helpful of all is the ability to get dictionary definitions at the touch of a finger. On even the most basic e-reader, users can get instant definitions without having to hunt through a physical dictionary

Summary Making (4 X 15 = 60 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the question below

It is well known that some cultures prefer sons to daughters. Sons are wanted because they can work to help the family earn income. Also, sons will be able to support their parents when the parents are old. In some countries, sons are important because the family name will continue for another generation. This is because the wife in these cultures take her husband's family name, and sometimes belongs to the husband's family. Not only that, but having a daughter can sometimes cause difficulty for the family. In India, for example, having a daughter can be a burden. Families must save a lot of money to pay a dowry when the girl gets married. According to a survey done in 2000, people in some developed countries would prefer to have daughters. Researchers said that parents in these societies do not have the same economic reasons that exist in other countries, so they do not need to have a son to help make money.

Why do people prefer to have sons in some countries?

Space Exploration

Do you think there is another life outside our planet Earth? Scientists are developing more and more modern machines to know more about the outer space. They do their best to understand the world around us and provide people with knowledge about space.

There are a lot of examples of the effect of space technology on human lives on the Earth. The first example is the Aircraft Technology. Space Technology has made aircraft lighter, faster and more economical. The second example is the Wireless technology which was developed to solve the communication problems between the Earth and space. Because of space technology it is now used in medicine to monitor heart activity. There are a lot of benefits we could get from space technology such as Satellite Television, Weather forecasting, GPS systems, Mobile phones, Air-Conditioning Units, etc.. As a matter of fact, investments into space exploration create real economic benefits on earth.

Living in space is not the same as living on Earth. Our bodies change in space. In space, astronauts float. They do not use their legs much. Their lower backs and leg muscles begin to lose strength. So, they must exercise in space every day. Astronauts have to make sure they have plenty of food and the gear to cook and eat it with. There are no refrigerators in space, so space food must be stored and prepared properly to avoid spoilage, especially on longer missions.

To sum up, I think space exploration has many benefits for humans on Earth. Besides, being an astronaut is not an easy job. It is so risky and it requires special qualifications.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage then answer the questions below:

If, when you are talking, someone suddenly opens his or her mouth and yawns, you are likely to feel offended, even if an effort is made to conceal what is probably an involuntary gesture. A yawn suggests either tiredness or boredom so obviously that it is barely acceptable in company, even if the yawner is not being directly addressed.

Why then do human beings yawn? The fact is: this is a behavior we share with a wide range of creatures, some familiar yawners, such as members of the cat families, but others perhaps more surprising, including birds and even fish. In all cases, the sequence of actions is remarkably similar. The mouth opens slowly. It remains open for five or six seconds before quickly closing. The physiological benefit is an increase in the heart rate and blood pressure leading to a raise in physical and mental alertness. Like other animals, we yawn to ready ourselves for action.

Dr. Ronald of Temple University has observed that with animals in captivity, yawning occurs most frequently as feeding time approaches. He supposes that this prepares them for one of the day's important events. Similarly, baboons in the wild, where they live in groups, react to the leader's first yawn of the day by imitating it until the whole group is involved. Then it is time to go seeking food.

One time when you are not likely to yawn is when you are already in bed and about to go to sleep. This is a logical consequence of not needing to stay awake and on the watch for the time being. Otherwise thought, the watchword in the animal kingdom appears to be yawn or you may be gone!

As we saw previously, yawning is a healthy phenomenon when it is related to the body and the brain but it is not a healthy gesture when it comes to the social relationships so most people tend to suppress this phenomenon in order not to hurt the feelings of the speaker. It is out of politeness to put our hand on our mouth to conceal the yawn if possible.

III- Summary Making (4 X 15 = 60 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the question below:

It is well known that some cultures prefer sons to daughters. Sons are wanted because they can work to help the family earn income. Also, sons will be able to support their parents when the parents are old. In some countries, sons are important because the family name will continue for another generation. This is because the wife in these cultures take her husband's family name, and sometimes belongs to the husband's family. Not only that, but having a daughter can sometimes cause difficulty for the family. In India, for example, having a daughter can be a burden. Families must save a lot of money to pay a dowry when the girl gets married. According to a survey done in 2000, people in some developed countries would prefer to have daughters. Researchers said that parents in these societies do not have the same economic reasons that exist in other countries, so they do not need to have a son to help make money.

In four sentences of your own, summarize and paraphrase the passage in answer to the following question:

Why do people prefer to have sons in some countries?

VI- Reading Comprehension (110 Marks)Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

110

It's a fact that most people don't like to fight or argue. It is just human nature to want to avoid a confrontation. However, throughout our lifetime, there will inevitably be some situations where we are called upon to defend our opinion on a topic against someone else's.

The ability to take a stand, and skillfully present your point of view is a fundamental skill that is needed in business, as well as other aspects of life. You may win some arguments and you may lose some. More often than not, you will come up with a negotiated agreement. But how you present your case and yourself, regardless of the outcome, will leave a lasting impression of who you are as a person and a leader. The first thing to remember is to be prepared for the argument. If you feel strongly about a topic, know it well. Take special measures to get the relevant facts and find out as much about the topic as you possibly can. Preparation is the only aspect of an argument or negotiation over which you have total control. You can never control what actually happens during an argument but being prepared can help you stand on firm ground.

In any serious discussion, it is not enough to simply understand your own point of view. It is equally, if not more important, to understand and never underestimate your opponent. It is important to understand that your opponent feels about his opinion as strongly as you feel about yours. Do not put down your opponent's ideas. Show politely that you understand, but that your opinion is different.

Throughout an argument, it is important to listen. Listening carefully and asking relevant questions show that you are truly involved in the discussion and allow you to receive important information that will eventually lead to an outcome. Be sure to listen with an open mind, even if you believe the other side is wrong.

Always keep your emotions under control. When arguments get emotionally-heated, both sides may lose control and the discussion process breaks down. No matter how strongly you feel about a topic, keep a calm voice. Sometimes it may even help to take a deep breath and count to ten.

Finally, accept the fact that some arguments do not have a clear-cut outcome. Know when enough is enough, and simply agree to disagree.

- b. to get facts about your topic and know it well.

VII- Summary Making (60 Marks)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

60

Writing is one of the most important inventions of humanity. It allows us to record our history, ideas and discoveries. As writing developed, so did writing tools. The early cavemen used animal hair brushes to paint pictures on cave walls. The pictures usually told stories about their hunts. After several centuries, the Egyptians invented a simple kind of pen made of reed, which is a tall plant like grass. Later, the Chinese used metal tools to carve their characters into turtle shells and cattle bones. After many decades, people developed different writing tools such as fountain pens and ballpoint pens with tiny ink tanks in them. Only time will tell what writing tools our children and grandchildren will be using in the future.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the passage above in answer to the following question: (4X15=60 Marks)

How have the writing tools developed throughout history?
